ELDER CARE SUPPORT

DECIDE | DISCIPLE | DECLARE

| Understanding the difficulty

We will journey with you, helping you to understand the difficulties of transitioning from someone who has cared for your whole to life, to now someone who is reliant on you to look after them for the rest of their life.

- Making the right decision
 - Financially
 - Emotionally
 - Medically

| Offering support:

We will walk step by step with you through this process, so at no point will you ever feel alone, but you will have a community and support network behind you.

- You will have our email
- You will have our phone number
- You will have access to our centre
- You will have access to our volunteers
- You will have access to our social media and online content

| Further links for support

Here at Hope2Families we do not claim to know it all, or be the most intelligent, the most experienced, or the best, but rather we recognise the massive need and the beautiful simplicity of just being there day by day when the situation seems hopeless.

However, there are those out there who are experienced, intelligent and the best in their field, we seek to point you in the direction of those people who can provide further support.

Nidirect for elder care

- In this link you will find Contact details for Age NI, combining Age Concern NI and Help the Aged in Northern Ireland. It provides support services to older people including day and domiciliary care, advice and information services, community development and health promotion programmes and the provision of an effective lobbying voice for older people

| Raising awareness and fundraising:

We desire to raise both funds and awareness for those who are journeying through this area of elder care. We recognise the difficulties families face during these times and so we want to alleviate as much stress and anxiety as possible. We do this by making people aware and raising funds that can go towards surgeries, medication, treatment and anything 'cost of living' related.

| Hope that we aim to instill:

Hope brings relief in the conviction that things will get better. We simply will abide with you and illustrate that hope can always be found, it is simply a matter of perspective and where you look. We want to showcase that hope can only be found in Jesus, and the practical help we provide is motivated by this truth.
